GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

CLIENT NUMBER [REDACTED] 7'463

PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S) [REDACTED] 7'463, [REDACTED]

8'715

CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

These General Terms and Conditions shall govern all of the contractual relations between Mirabaud & Cie (hereinafter "the Bank") and its Client(s) (hereinafter "the Clients"), subject to any specific agreements and bank practices.

To make reading more fluent, the Bank will not systematically use the masculine, feminine and neuter forms in all formulas. The masculine form is implicitly considered to include the feminine and neuter forms.

The Bank's contractual documentation is available in several languages. In case of any discrepancy between the various versions, the French version shall be the sole binding version.

The notion of "account" in the following provisions includes that of "portfolio" used in the contractual documentation.

I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Right of disposition and Client identification

The signatures provided to the Bank in writing are the only signatures that are binding upon the Bank until notice of revocation in writing. The Bank shall not be obliged to take into account any differing registrations contained in the Commercial Register or any other publications. Subject to any provision stating otherwise (e.g. joint account), when several persons hold a joint custody account or current account, the right of disposition over same may only be exercised by all of the depositors or current account holders. The joint depositors or account holders shall be jointly and severally liable to the Bank for all of the commitments resulting from the custody or current account.

2. Transmission error and incorrect verification

Any damage resulting from the use of the postal service, telephone, fax, e-mail or any other mode of transmission, or the use of a delivery company, in particular due to any delays, losses, misunderstandings, deterioration in condition or items being transmitted or shipped twice, shall be borne by the Clients except in the case of gross negligence on the part of the Bank.

The Clients shall be liable for any damage arising as a result of incorrect verification of identity or forgery that was not detected, except in the case of gross negligence on the part of the Bank.

3. Civil incapacity

The Clients shall be liable for any damage resulting from civil incapacity on their behalf if the Bank could not have known of this incapacity using ordinary due diligence. The Clients shall always be liable for any damage resulting from incapacity on the part of any holder of a power of attorney or third party.

4. Communications and dormant assets

Any communications by the Bank shall be deemed to have been validly made if sent to the last address provided by the Clients. The date appearing on the copy in the possession of the Bank shall be deemed to be the date on which the communication was sent.

However, the Bank reserves the right to notify the Clients at any time, but shall have no obligation to do so, at any place where the Bank believes it is able to contact the Clients, by using for this purpose any means of communication that it considers appropriate.

Any mail held on deposit at the Bank on the instructions of the Clients shall be deemed to have been delivered on the date which it bears.

The Clients undertake to notify the Bank spontaneously and without delay of any change in the Clients' personal status (nationality, marital status, domicile/registered office, etc.), and shall take the measures necessary to ensure that their assets cannot be considered as "dormant" within the meaning of the regulations in effect. If, despite this undertaking, contact should be broken, the Bank shall, at its own discretion or supported by a third party, undertake research in Switzerland and abroad to re-establish contact. Any expenses incurred shall be fully payable by the Clients, regardless of their amount.

If the research undertaken by the Bank is unsuccessful or, for any other reason, contact cannot be made with the Client, the Bank is obliged, in accordance with the rules of conduct of the Swiss Bankers' Association, to itemize the Clients' assets, centralize them within the Bank and report them to a research centre.

Any communications made by the Clients using e-mail shall only be binding on the Bank within the limits set out in the form authorizing this means of communication and after said form has been signed.

5. Faulty execution of orders

In the case of any damage incurred as a result of the non-execution, late execution or faulty execution of an order, the Bank shall be responsible only for any loss of interest unless it was warned, in a particular case, of the risk of more extensive damage. With respect to stock exchange orders, the Bank shall not be liable for omissions or errors attributable to its auxiliaries.

6. Client complaints

Any Client complaint relating to the execution or non-execution of any order, or any dispute of a notice or account statement, must be submitted to the Bank in writing immediately following receipt of the corresponding notice, but no later than within 30 days from the date on which the notice was sent. If there is no complaint within this period, the measures taken by the Bank or any non-execution of an order, or the statements prepared by it, shall be deemed to have been approved. Any damage resulting from a late complaint shall be borne by the Clients.

If the Clients do not receive a notice, they must file their complaint at the time that they would normally have received a notice. If the information is made available by way of another form or means of communication, the complaint must be made as soon as the notice was available for consultation.

7. Right of pledge and set-off

By way of a guarantee for all claims resulting from the Bank's business relationships with the Clients, irrespective of their due date or the currency in which they are denominated, the Clients shall grant the Bank a right of pledge and, for deals, a right of set-off in respect of all assets held in custody with it or at another location for the account of the Clients. In the event that the Clients fail to meet their commitments and by means of advance notice given to the Clients, the Bank may, in its discretion, realize the pledged assets through private sale or by way of legal proceedings. In particular, the Bank may realize the Clients' stocks (including intermediated stocks), traded on a market, by selling them in the market or by appropriating them to cover the value of the secured claim. This right applies even if the Clients are the subject of an enforcement procedure or a restructuring or protection measure.

These rights shall be valid without prejudice to any other specific or special right or guarantee that may have been provided.

If a new pledge is made by the Clients in favour of a third party, this new pledge shall be subordinate to the pledge existing in favour of the Bank, with the Bank informing the third party in question accordingly. Furthermore, if the Clients set up a new pledge on assets pledged in favour of another third party, the Clients authorize the Bank to provide notice of the existing pledges to the beneficiaries of the new pledge.

If the assets should be replaced by others, the latter shall be subject to the Bank's right of pledge automatically.

8. Purchase and sale of securities

The purchase and sale of securities, precious metals, foreign currencies and other financial instruments carried out through the Bank shall be governed by the customs of the stock exchanges or markets in question. In addition, the Bank reserves the right not to execute an order if it believes that to do so might contravene the rules applicable to the market concerned, or for any other reason.

The Clients confirm to the Bank that neither they, nor any designated beneficial owner, is/are persons for whom the acquisition of securities could be limited or prohibited by the rules governing certain financial markets, in particular the US rules applicable to initial public offerings (IPO) and those applicable to the "Voluntary IPO Initiative" (in the case of any doubt about this qualification, instructions may be requested from the Bank). The Clients undertake to notify the Bank promptly of any change in their status, or in that of any designated beneficial owners, that might alter this qualification. They acknowledge and agree that the Bank could be forced to sell the positions affected by these regulations without notice.

9. Telephone conversations

In order to guarantee transaction security, the Bank may record telephone conversations on certain lines, in particular those of the Bank's sales and trading services, and the Clients expressly accept this. The recordings are only kept for a limited period of time and the Bank will only use them in the event of any disputes or problems connected with instructions given by telephone.

10. Bills of exchange, cheques and other similar instruments

The Bank may debit the Clients' account for bills of exchange, cheques and other similar instruments, credited or discounted, if they were not paid when due or presented.

Until payment of the debit balance, the Bank shall however retain against any obligee pursuant to the said instrument the right to payment in full of the bill of exchange, cheque and any other similar instrument as well as payment in full of any ancillary debts.

Exhibit A-202

11. Bank remuneration and conflicts of interest

The Bank shall be paid for the services it provides in accordance with the fees set by it. The Bank reserves the right to modify these fees at any time, as well as the dates on which debits are made from the Clients' account.

The Clients authorize the Bank to debit their account in respect of fees, commission and any agreed or customary expenses.

The Clients have been informed and agree that the Bank or its affiliated companies may directly or indirectly receive payments or benefits from third parties, including in the form of commission, custody fees, retrocessions or brokerage fees. The Bank or its affiliated companies may, in particular, receive payment in respect of collective investment instruments or other financial products in which the assets of the Clients are invested. The Clients expressly accept that the Bank shall keep such payments.

The Bank may also engage in other business activities, particularly in the sphere of management for the benefit of third parties, which might bring its interests into conflict with those of its Clients. The Bank may also have proprietary interests which diverge from Clients' interests, particularly regarding investments in collective capital investment schemes or other financial products which the Bank manages, advises on, promotes or is connected with in any other capacity, or for which the Bank could receive payment or other benefits.

The Clients have also noted and accepted the fact that the Bank or its affiliated companies may have to pay remuneration to third parties.

12. Treatment of Saturdays as bank holidays

In all dealings with the Bank, Saturdays are treated as if they were official bank holidays.

13. Current accounts

All accounts of the same Clients, regardless of their name or their reference currency, shall constitute a single current account. The Bank reserves the right to offset interest and balances between them, but shall retain the ability to claim each account balance separately.

In principle, the Bank does not pay interest on current accounts.

As a rule, statements of account are drawn up at the end of each year. The Bank shall deduct from the accounts any interest, fees, commission and agreed or customary expenses.

Any interest rates applicable are fixed by the Bank according to the market situation. The Bank reserves the right to change these interest rates at any time without notice.

Clients assets denominated in foreign currencies are deposited by the Bank in its name, but for the account and at the risk of the Clients, with correspondents within or outside the currency zone in question. In particular, the Clients shall bear the risk resulting from any legal or administrative restrictions (particularly exchange restrictions), as well as any charges and taxes levied by the countries concerned. Unless there are specific instructions from the Clients, payment of transactions entrusted to the Bank shall, in its sole discretion, be made in the currency of the transaction or converted into another currency, whether the transaction is carried out in Switzerland or abroad.

If the Clients give several orders, the total of which exceeds their available assets or the credit granted to them, the Bank may execute these orders, at its convenience, in whole or in part, and without regard to the date on which they are given nor to that on which they are received.

The Bank shall provide blank cheques to any account holder who makes a request for the same. Any Clients who receive blank cheques are required to keep them with the greatest care. The Clients must advise the Bank immediately in the event of loss of such blank cheques. When closing an account, the account holders must return any unused blank cheques to the Bank. The Clients shall be liable for any damages resulting from the loss, fraudulent use or forgery of cheques, even if the Clients are not at fault in the matter. Account holders may only draw a cheque on the Bank if they have the necessary funds available on account. Unless otherwise agreed, cheques drawn using blank bank cheques shall be honoured by the Bank without the drawer being required to give prior notice. The Bank shall be authorized to consider the bearer of a cheque issued by the Bank as being legitimately authorized to receive the amount of the cheque; however, it reserves the right to verify any signatures on cheques, but without assuming any liability in this respect.

At the end of the year, an account statement is sent to the account holders accompanied by a confirmation form (receipt slip), which the Clients are requested to return to the Bank, duly signed, after verification. If, within 30 days of the date on which the statement is sent, the Clients do not return the form to the Bank and do not submit any complaint to the Bank, the Clients shall be deemed to have accepted the account balance. Explicit or tacit acceptance of an account statement implies acceptance of all items contained therein as well as any reservations made by the Bank.

14. Data protection

The Bank may collect and use sensitive data relating to its Clients, in particular for internal marketing purposes, including data concerning their asset situation.

The executive bodies, employees and agents of the Bank are required by law to maintain bank-Client confidentiality. The Clients nevertheless release them from their duty of confidentiality to the extent necessary for the Bank to defend its own legitimate interests, particularly where legal provisions or investment conditions applicable to foreign securities (or book-entry securities) transactions require disclosure of the identity of the Clients or the beneficial owner of the assets in the account, and of the composition of their portfolio.

Pursuant to Swiss legal requirements, if the Banks suspect that its Clients are involved in criminal affairs and/or that the assets deposited are of criminal origin, it shall communicate its evidence to the relevant Swiss authorities.

15. Identification of ordering Client

In the case of transfers, the Client acknowledge having been duly informed of the fact that the Bank is required by law to specify the name, account number and address of the contracting party ordering the transfer, or even, to the extent that Swiss and foreign regulations allow, the name, account number and an Identifier.

Disclosure of client data for payment traffic, securities transactions and other operations involving SWIFT: when Clients issue the Bank with payment instructions or stock transaction orders, their personal coordinates and/or account number are transmitted to the payment traffic system operators or to SWIFT (Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial Telecommunication) and correspondent banks. Data transmitted outside or within Switzerland via SWIFT are thus no longer protected by Swiss banking secrecy laws. The Bank has an information sheet with further details on this subject which is available to Clients.

16. Outsourcing

In accordance with the rules of the Financial Market Supervisory Authority, the Bank reserves the right to delegate to third parties, at any time that it deems expedient, and in its discretion, the provision of certain services relating to its activity, such as the processing of accounts, the operation of hardware and software, the printing and dispatch of financial statements, securities transactions and their administration, payment services and other back-office duties.

17. Termination of business relations

The Bank reserves the right to terminate business relations with Clients with immediate effect, and in particular to terminate any loans extended or not grant any loans promised, in which case repayment of all debts to the Bank shall become due and payable immediately.

Any authorization given to the Bank shall remain in effect notwithstanding the Clients' death, incapacity to exercise their civil rights, or bankruptcy, until same is terminated by the Bank or revoked in writing by persons authorized to revoke it.

This provision is subject to any written agreement to the contrary.

18. Amendment of General Terms and Conditions

The Bank reserves the right to amend these General Terms and Conditions at any time. Any such amendments shall be communicated to the Clients by circular letter or by any other appropriate means. Unless an objection is lodged within one month from the date of dispatch, such amendments shall be deemed to have been approved and shall replace all previous versions.

19. Applicable law and jurisdiction

All relationships between the Clients and the Bank shall be governed exclusively by Swiss law.

The place of performance, and the court with exclusive jurisdiction in respect of any kinds of actions and proceedings under the Swiss federal debt collection and bankruptcy act in the latter case only in respect of Clients not domiciled in Switzerland, will be in the place where the Bank's head office or the branch, where the contractual relationship was established, is situated, subject to any appeal to the Swiss Federal Tribunal in the cases provided for by law.

Nevertheless, the Bank reserves the right to commence proceedings before any other court or competent authority, whether in Switzerland or abroad, in particular before the courts in the place of domicile of the Clients. In that event, Swiss law shall remain equally applicable.

These General Terms and Conditions apply with immediate effect. The undersigned Clients hereby declare that they have taken note of all clauses contained in these General Terms and Conditions and expressly approve the contents thereof.

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO CUSTODY AND PRECIOUS METAL ACCOUNTS

CLIENT NUMBER 7'463

PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S)

7'463, 508'715

CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

These provisions govern the contractual relationship between Mirabaud & Cie (hereinafter « the Bank ») and the depositors (hereinafter « the Depositor ») subject to any specific agreements and bank practices.

I. PROVISIONS APPLYING TO CUSTODY ACCOUNTS

A. Open custody accounts

1. The Bank undertakes to hold all classes of securities, precious metals and any investments not represented by securities (in particular, any deposit of money market instruments and capital and securities for which certificates have not yet been issued) in an open custody and administration account. The concept of "securities" shall apply by analogy to securities, book-entry securities and intermediated securities within the meaning of the Federal Law on Intermediated securities.

Any precious metals which are not in common commercial form and coins having a numismatic value shall be placed in a separate, individual custody account.

The Bank may refuse to hold all or part of the assets in a custody account, without giving any reason.

2. At least once per calendar year, the Bank shall provide the Depositor with a statement of securities and precious metals on deposit. The valuation of assets on deposits shall be provided for information purposes only and shall not be binding upon the Bank.

3. The Bank shall keep in a safe location the deposited assets entrusted to it. It shall be authorized to have the deposited securities and precious metals held in its name with correspondents in Switzerland or abroad, but for the account and at the risk of the Depositor. In particular, the Depositor expressly authorizes the Bank to call upon a correspondent outside Switzerland which is not subject to the same prudential supervision as the Bank. The Bank reserves the right to deposit the securities and precious metals in a collective account internally or with a central collective custodian. If the collective custody account is located in Switzerland, the Depositor becomes a joint owner of the collective custody account or accounts in proportion to his or her share of the assets. If the collective account is located abroad, the deposited assets shall be subject to the laws and customs of the place where they are held in safe-keeping. If any foreign law renders the return of the assets or the proceeds of their sale difficult or even impossible, the Bank shall only be responsible for obtaining the right to the return of the assets or the corresponding proceeds for the Depositor if that right exists and is transferable.

Securities and precious metals in custody accounts are subject to the laws and customs in effect at the place where they are held. Securities which are the subject of a drawing of lots may also be held in collective custody accounts. The Bank shall divide these assets among Depositors in an equal manner, in proportion to their positions.

Under no circumstances is the Bank responsible for any consequences arising from a sub-depositor selected by the Depositor against the Bank's recommendation.

4. In respect of securities that are entrusted to it in open custody accounts, the Bank shall, automatically and without assuming any responsibility for any errors or omissions, conduct any daily business operations required. Such operations include in particular the following:

- a. monitoring of coupon payment notices, lists of drawing of lots, notices relating to redemption, repayment, conversion, subscription rights, etc.;
- b. cutting off and cashing or negotiation of maturing interest and dividend coupons;
- c. renewal of coupon sheets and exchange of temporary certificates for actual securities;
- d. cashing of redeemable securities.

5. On written instructions from the Depositor given in a timely manner (in the absence of agreement to the contrary), the Bank will take care of:

- a. enforcement of rights of conversion or option rights;
- b. the exercise or sale of subscription rights. If instructions from the Depositor are not received by the Bank in time, the Bank shall have the right, but shall not be obliged, to exercise or sell the subscription right in its discretion.

As a general rule, the Bank shall subscribe to capital increases for the account of its Depositors insofar as they have available funds. It reserves the right not to do this.

6. Whenever the printing of securities is deferred, the Bank shall be authorized to:

- a. have existing securities converted by the issuer into uncertificated securities;
- b. carry out normal administrative tasks, give the issuer the necessary instructions, obtain any indispensable information;
- c. demand printing of securities by the issuer for the account of the Depositor and have such securities delivered.

7. The Depositor may only exercise its rights pertaining to intermediated securities via the Bank. In particular the Bank shall only exercise the voting rights attached to securities held in custody on the basis of written instructions from the Depositor.

Unless specifically requested to do so by the Depositor, the Bank shall not be responsible for informing the Depositor about the existence of composition proceedings, insolvency proceedings, actions commenced by any group of shareholders (so-called "class actions"), or any other similar proceedings relating to the securities deposited. Any legal proceedings to be undertaken within the framework of these actions to protect the rights associated with the deposited securities must be commenced by the Depositor directly and at the Depositor's expense.

8. If it is unusual or impossible to have the securities deposited in the name of the Depositor registered, the Bank may have the deposited securities registered in its name or the name of a third party, but always for the account and solely at the risk of the Depositor. If registered securities, once issued, are registered on a fiduciary basis in the name of the Bank or of a third party designated by the Bank for this purpose, the Bank may demand that these securities remain in a custody account with the Bank. In no circumstances can the Bank be compelled to act or to become a party to a civil, criminal or administrative suit against the issuer of the securities or any intervening third party.

The Depositor is solely responsible for taking whichever measures it deems adequate, and hereby expressly acknowledges that it could, in certain circumstances and due to the fact that the securities are registered in the name of the Bank, lose all right of action against the issuer of the securities or any intervening third-party, particularly in the event of the total or partial unassignability of securities or debt.

9. Subject to compliance with contractual deadlines, legal provisions and any rights of pledge or retention, the Depositor may dispose of all of his or her assets at the time and agreed in advance with the Bank. For technical and administrative reasons, the Bank must receive sufficient advance notice before any major withdrawal is made, or if the withdrawal involves securities or precious metals deposited with third parties or abroad, in order to be able to perform the required operations at the appropriate time.

In the case of any withdrawal from a collective custody account, the Bank shall no longer physically deliver the same items, but in each case deliver securities, gold bars or coins with the same characteristics and properties as those originally deposited or purchased by the Depositor.

When metals are withdrawn, any differences between the weight and purity of the metals withdrawn and the weight and purity of the metals recorded shall be calculated at the rate in effect on the date of withdrawal.

If the Depositor requests the return of his or her assets at a place other than the place of performance, he or she shall assume the risks and expenses thereof.

At the request of the Depositor, the Bank will provide or have delivered the securities corresponding in number and type to the intermediated securities credited to his/her account.

- if the corresponding securities are kept by the Bank or one of its sub-depositors,
- or
- if the Depositor is entitled to issue securities according to the issuers' articles of association and conditions of issuance

The securities provided conform to the norms of the market where they are traded.

B. Special provisions for closed custody accounts

10. All items entrusted to the Bank in a closed custody account must be in a package sealed (for instance with lead) in such a manner that it is impossible to open the package without breaking the seal (or lead). Any such custody account may include a declaration of value.

MIRABAUD & Cie Banquiers Privés

The custody account may under no circumstances contain objects and/or materials that are flammable, dangerous or not suitable for storage in a bank. The Depositor shall be liable for any damage caused as a result of failure to observe this rule. Upon receipt of the items deposited, the Bank reserves the right to require the Depositor to provide proof of their exact nature.

Except in the case of gross negligence on its part, the Bank may not be held liable for any damage incurred to items held in a custody account in all cases, the Bank's liability shall be limited to the damage proved by the Depositor, and to a maximum equal to the declared value. In particular, the Bank disclaims any liability for deterioration due to atmospheric influences or for any damage caused as a result of any handling of the items as ordered by the Depositor. On withdrawal of any items from a custody account, the Depositor must verify that the seal or lead is intact. Withdrawal from the custody account shall release the Bank from any liability. The Depositor shall be solely responsible for insuring the items held in a custody account.

II. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO PRECIOUS METALS

1. Metal accounts apply to precious metals (gold, silver, platinum and palladium) that are managed in the form of an account by the Bank and do not constitute securities held in safe-keeping.

As a general rule, a statement of account is sent to the Depositor at least once at the end of each calendar year.

2. The Depositor shall have the right to withdraw a quantity of metal equivalent to that represented by the assets in the account. This quantity is expressed in units of fine gold in the case of gold, and in the gross weight of the corresponding plates or ingots in the case of other metals. The dimensions and quality of deliveries will be in accordance with market practice.

Through delivery, the Depositor acquires a right of ownership of the metal.

Upon request by the Depositor, the Bank shall also deliver metal to the Depositor at a different location, on the condition that this is physically possible and does not contravene any legislation in effect at that location.

Any delivery of dimensions smaller than usual in the market shall be made in accordance with the corresponding reduced unit, on the understanding that in such cases the Depositor shall pay any increased manufacturing costs. Any balance in favour of or payable by the Depositor shall be calculated at the market price on the date of delivery.

3. Assets in metal accounts do not bear interest.

4. On physical delivery of metals in Switzerland or abroad, the Depositor will assume all the risks associated therewith, and must pay all existing or future duties and taxes, etc., linked to this transaction. In extraordinary circumstances, such as in the event of war, limitations on transfers, etc., the Bank will have the option of delivering the metal at the Depositor's risk and expense, to such place and in such a manner as it may consider most appropriate.

III. COMMON PROVISIONS

1. Modification of provisions applicable to custody accounts and metal accounts

The Bank reserves the right to amend these terms and conditions at any time. Any such amendments shall be communicated to the Depositor by circular letter or by any other appropriate means. Unless an objection is made within one month of issue, they will be considered as approved and will replace all previous versions.

The Bank's General Terms and Conditions, which in particular stipulate that Swiss law shall apply and designate the place of jurisdiction, and which the Depositor acknowledges that he has read and understood, shall govern all business relations between the Depositor and the Bank, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in these provisions.

These General Terms and Conditions apply with immediate effect, the undersigned Depositor hereby declares that he has taken note of all clauses contained in these General Terms and Conditions and expressly approves the contents thereof.

DEED OF PLEDGE

CLIENT NUMBER [REDACTED] 7'463

PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S) [REDACTED] 7'463, [REDACTED]

8'715

CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

The present deed of pledge applies to all the Portfolios opened/placed under the above-mentioned client number.

The undersigned (hereinafter the "Client") hereby declares that he/she/it gives as a pledge in favour of Mirabaud & Cie, hereinafter referred to as "the Bank", by way of surety for all debts, present or future, plus interest, commissions, costs and all accessories which the Bank may be owed by him (them) and by

for whatever reason and at whatever time, all the securities, intermediated securities, assets, book-entry securities, cash in Swiss and foreign currencies, other property deposited with the bank or any current or future right and claims against the Bank, including fiduciary deposits, (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Assets") at present deposited or which may be deposited later in his/their name or on his/their behalf under the above-mentioned client number both with the Bank and under its management with its correspondents.

The right of pledge given to the Bank by this deed shall extend to all interests, dividends, distributions and other due rights whatsoever, whether current or future, relating to the Assets pledged.

If the Assets should be replaced by others, the latter shall be subject to the Bank's right of pledge automatically.

If new payments are made on pledged Assets, the right of pledge shall extend to the resulting additional value.

The Client undertakes immediately, where appropriate, to perform all the formalities which may be necessary, on the Bank's first request, to allow the Bank to exercise all the rights arising to it from this pledge.

If, for any reason whatsoever, the Bank should consider that the value of the Assets pledged, taking into account the set margin of cover, is no longer adequate to cover the debt, the Client hereby undertakes to re-establish said margin within the time set by the Bank. If this request is not complied with by the set date, the debt to the Bank shall immediately fall due without any further formalities being required. On the expiry of the set period, the Bank shall be entitled without further notice and without the need to invoke the procedure provided by law for prosecution for debts and bankruptcy to realise all or part of the Assets covered by this deed in the manner, order and time convenient to it, on or off the stock exchange, and to offset their costs via the secured claim. The Bank may also appropriate all or part of the Assets to cover the value of the secured claim. In all cases, a detailed statement shall be sent to the Client.

If the pledge relates to the Client's claims against the Bank, the latter may realise these claims via cash payment, irrespective of currency, maturities and the type of claims in question.

The Client expressly authorises the Bank to dispose, in its own name and for its own account, of all intermediated securities pledged to the Bank and, notably, to create a subsequent right of lien on the aforementioned Intermediated securities.

The Client hereby declare(s) that he/she/it waive(s) any dispute or discussion concerning the realisation of the pledges.

If a new pledge is made by the Client in favour of a third party, this new pledge shall be subordinate to the pledge existing in favour of the Bank, with the Bank informing the third party in question accordingly. Furthermore, if the Client sets up a new pledge on assets pledged in favour of another third party, the Client authorises the Bank to provide notice of the existing pledges to the beneficiaries of the new pledge.

The product of the realisation of the pledges shall be used to repay the principal, interest, commissions, costs and accessories of the debt to the Bank, while the Client shall remain personally liable to the Bank for any debit balance which may exist after the full realisation of the pledges.

Once the debt falls due, the Bank may, even if the margin of cover is intact, require the Client to repay it within the time set by the Bank. If this request is not complied with by the set date, the Bank shall be entitled to realise the pledges in the manner set out above.

The Client undertakes to invest his/her/its pledged assets only to an extent judged acceptable by the Bank. The Bank may object to instructions and measures decided by the Client or any agents of the Client if it believes, for whatever reason, that these instructions/measures could compromise the value of the pledged assets to an extent that the collateral margin required by the Bank is not secured in any other way.

The Bank's General Terms and Conditions, which, in particular, stipulate that Swiss law will apply and designate the place of jurisdiction, and which the Client acknowledges that he/she/it has read and understood, govern all business relations between the Client and the Bank, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in this deed of pledge.

REPRESENTATION TO THE GENERAL MEETINGS

CLIENT NUMBER [REDACTED] 7'463 PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S) [REDACTED] 7'463, [REDACTED] 3'715
CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

The undersigned (hereafter the Principal) gives(give) mandate, with substitution right, to Mirabaud & Cie (hereafter the Bank) to represent at the Ordinary or Extraordinary General Meetings, without however imposing it upon them, the shares held in the Principal's name and the securities registered as being deposited in scriptural form.

General instructions

The Principal expressly foregoes being consulted to give specific instructions to the Bank before each General Meeting in which the Bank would decide to represent his securities, and generally entrusts the Bank to vote in the sense of the Board's proposals.

Specific instructions

The Principal wishes to be consulted before each General Meeting where the Bank would decide to represent his securities, so as to be able to give specific voting instructions.

If the Principal's instructions do not reach the Bank, or do not reach it in time, the Bank will vote in the sense of the Board's proposals.

The Principal can exercise his voting right at all times. In this case, he must ask the Bank for the participation card to the General Meeting in question, 48 hours at the latest before the date of the meeting.

The present mandate will not end in the case of the Principal's death or incapacity, or for any other cause mentioned in articles 35 and 405 of the "Swiss Code of Obligations".

CLIENT NUMBER [REDACTED] 7'463

PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S) [REDACTED]

7'463, [REDACTED] 8'715

CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

1. The undersigned [REDACTED] acting as principal(s) (hereinafter "the Principal") authorises Mirabaud & Cie (hereinafter "the Bank") to effect, by using all or part of the Principal's assets deposited with the Bank, fiduciary deposits in the Bank's name but for the exclusive account and risk of the Principal with banks and/or financial institutions abroad.
2. The choice of depository bank, currency, amount, interest rate and maturity (including all renewals, extension increase and reduction of the placement) as well as the implementation of any new deposit either immediately following the maturity of any previous deposit or on any later date is left to the Bank's complete discretion. The Principal stipulates the following additional/restrictive instructions:

3. The Bank's sole obligation is to credit to the Principal such amounts in repayment of capital and interests which has been credited to the Bank, at its legal domicile, and which is at its free disposal.
4. The Principal has been informed and agree that he shall fully bear the risk of default on the part of the depository bank (del credere risk).
5. All sums placed by virtue of the present power are subject to the present and future legislation applicable in the country of residence of the bank receiving the deposit as well as all regulations which apply to the currency in which payment is effected. If a foreign bank defaults on its obligations or if it only makes partial repayment of the deposit, the Bank's sole obligation is to assign to the Principal the claim held on his behalf.
6. The Principal approves in advance all transactions which the Bank shall or shall not undertake for his account under the present power and furthermore confirms expressly that the Bank will not be held liable for any decision which have been left to its discretion
7. The funds employed for the above mentioned transactions will be booked to a fiduciary account and the interests receivable on the deposits will be credited at maturity to the Principal through the fiduciary account as soon as such interest is received.
8. At any time, the Bank shall be entitled to transfer to the Principal the claim it holds in his favour.
9. The present power shall not cease to be valid upon the Principal's death or by reason of his loss of capacity nor for any other cause enumerated in Articles 35 and 405 of the Swiss Code of Obligations. It shall remain in force until the Bank has received the Principal's written notice of revocation or until the same is cancelled by the Bank. Notice of revocation or any change relating to the terms and conditions of this power must reach the Bank at least 5 working days prior to the date of maturity of the current operation(s). Such revocation will not affect the operations which have not matured.
10. The General Terms and Conditions of the Bank which provide the application of Swiss law and designate the place of jurisdiction and with which the Principal recognizes to be familiar, govern the business relations between the Principal and the Bank unless this agreement stipulates the contrary.

In relation to the requirements imposed by the United States Withholding Tax Regulations and by the Qualified Intermediary Agreement the Bank has concluded with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”), the portfolio holder hereby gives the Bank the following information relating to the ownership of assets held in the portfolio(s) related to the above-mentioned client number.

1. to ascertain whether the portfolio holder is or is not a “U.S. Person”, and
2. to determine whether the portfolio holder intends to claim the benefits of an Income Tax Treaty, if any, between the U.S. and the portfolio holder’s country of tax residence.

I. DECLARATIONS

A. Declaration of Non-U.S. Status

We the undersigned, acting for or on behalf of the portfolio holder whom we represent and are empowered to sign for, hereby declare that the portfolio holder is a Company (fill in legal description of entity) organized under the laws of Bermuda (fill in country), and that

Companies, Partnerships, Collective Investment Vehicles, etc.	OR	Trusts and Similar Entities (Please check all applicable boxes)
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> The portfolio holder is a non-U.S. company, a non-U.S. partnership, a non-U.S. collective investment vehicle or another non-U.S. entity that <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. under U.S. tax law, is a per se corporation, or 2. has made a «check-the-box» election to be treated as a corporation for U.S. tax purposes; or 3. has not made a «check-the-box» election, but nonetheless is treated as a corporation for U.S. tax purposes. 		The portfolio holder is not an entity that is established for the purposes of carrying on business (and does not carry on business) and is treated as a non-U.S. trust for U.S. tax purposes, and <input type="checkbox"/> it is NOT a «grantor» trust for U.S. tax purposes, and/or <input type="checkbox"/> it is NOT a «simple» trust for U.S. tax purposes. Note: A trust (or similar entity) will only be regarded as a Non-“Flow Through” entity for U.S. tax purposes if it has checked both boxes above

NOTES

This Form is inappropriate and should be disregarded and replaced by other documentation in the following cases:

If you are signing on behalf of an entity that is, or is treated as, a foreign partnership for U.S. tax purposes or which has made a “check-the-box” election to that effect, the partnership must complete and sign IRS Form W-BIMY, and appropriate documentation must be completed and signed by each partner/shareholder/member (either IRS Form W-9 for a U.S. citizen or resident, or the Bank’s Form for Individuals “Declaration of non-U.S. Status” for a non-US partner). This documentation must also include certified copies of official identity documents (passports or national identity cards). If you are signing on behalf of an entity that has elected to be disregarded as an entity for U.S. tax purposes, documentation from the sole member/shareholder is required. If you are signing on behalf of an entity where no partner/shareholder/member is a U.S. citizen or resident, you yourself are responsible for obtaining additional information as to the documentation that needs to be submitted

If you are signing on behalf of a foreign “grantor trust” in respect of which a U.S. person is the grantor, you must provide IRS Form W-BIMY signed by the trustee(s) and IRS Form W-9 signed by the grantor (i.e., the person who funded the trust). If you are signing on behalf of a foreign “grantor trust” in respect of which a non-U.S. person is the grantor, you must provide (1) IRS Form W-BIMY signed by the trustee(s), (2) the Bank’s form “Declaration of non-U.S. Status”, signed by the non-U.S. grantor and, (3) a certified copy of the grantor’s passport or national identity card. If you are signing on behalf of a grantor trust where the grantor is not a U.S. citizen or resident, you yourself are responsible for obtaining additional information as to the documentation that needs to be submitted

If you are signing on behalf of foreign “simple trust”, then you must provide (1) IRS Form W-BIMY signed by the trustee(s), (2) the appropriate documentation (either IRS Form W-9 for a U.S. citizen or resident, or the Bank’s form “Declaration of non-U.S. Status”, signed by each non-U.S. beneficiary of the simple trust, and (3), for each beneficiary that is a non-U.S. person, a certified copy of his passport or national identity card. If you are signing on behalf of a simple trust where none of the beneficiaries are U.S. citizens or residents, you yourself are responsible for obtaining additional information as to the documentation that needs to be submitted

If you are signing on behalf of a U.S. corporation, partnership, trust or another U.S. entity, please submit a duly completed and signed IRS Form W-9

B. “No Effectively Connected Income” Declaration

The undersigned portfolio holder declares that the income to which this Form relates is not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S.

C. Beneficial Ownership Confirmation

The undersigned portfolio holder hereby declares that, according to U.S. tax principles, it is the beneficial owner of all assets and income deposited in the above-mentioned portfolio(s).

In accordance with the provisions contained in the General Terms and Conditions of Mirabaud & Cie (hereinafter the "Bank"), the undersigned has/have been duly informed that in the case of transfers, the Bank is required by law to specify the name, account number and address of the contracting party ordering the transfer, or even, to the extent that Swiss and foreign regulations allow, the name, account number and an identifier.

Accordingly, the undersigned hereby confirm(s) as follows:

A. TRANSFERS IN SWITZERLAND DENOMINATED IN SWISS FRANCS

That he/they expressly agree(s) that the Bank may, immediately at the request of the beneficiary establishment, specify his/their name(s), address(es) and account number, as the ordering client, in the case of any transfer in Switzerland denominated in Swiss Francs.

In this context, the undersigned hereby waive(s) his/their right to make a claim against the Bank for contravening article 47 of the banking secrecy regulations in respect of this procedure. In addition, he/they release(s) the Bank from liability for any damage that might result therefrom.

That he/they do(es) not agree that the Bank may inform the beneficiary establishment of his/their name(s), address(es) and account number, as the ordering client. Consequently, the undersigned acknowledge(s) that he/they has/have been informed that the Bank will not be able to make any transfer in Switzerland denominated in Swiss Francs by debiting his/their account. In particular, the Bank shall not be responsible for informing the undersigned that it cannot perform transfers in Switzerland denominated in Swiss Francs from the aforementioned account in the event that it receives such a request, and will not be liable for any damage that might result therefrom.

B. TRANSFERS IN FOREIGN CURRENCY AND/OR TO A FOREIGN COUNTRY

That he/they expressly agree(s) that the Bank may specify his/their name(s), address(es) and account number, as the ordering client, in the case of any transfer in foreign currency and/or to a foreign country. To the extent that Swiss or foreign regulations allow it to do so, the Bank may specify an identifier instead of the address.

In this context, the undersigned hereby waive(s) his/their right to make a claim against the Bank for contravening article 47 of the banking secrecy regulations in respect of this procedure. In addition, he/they release(s) the Bank from liability for any damage that might result therefrom.

That he/they do(es) not agree that the Bank may specify his/their name(s), address(es) and account number, as the ordering client, in the case of any transfer in foreign currency and/or to a foreign country. Consequently, the undersigned acknowledge(s) that he/they has/have been informed that the Bank will not be able to make any transfer in foreign currency and/or to a foreign country by debiting his/their account. In particular, the Bank shall not be responsible for informing the undersigned that it cannot perform transfers in foreign currency and/or to a foreign country from the aforementioned account in the event that it receives such a request, and will not be liable for any damage that might result therefrom.

The General Terms and Conditions of the Bank which provide for the application of Swiss law and designate the place of jurisdiction, and with which the undersigned recognize(s) to be familiar, govern the business relations between the undersigned and the Bank unless these instructions stipulate the contrary.

These instructions and waivers will remain valid until withdrawn by the undersigned in writing.

Additionally, the Client undertakes not to sue the Bank for violation of bank-client confidentiality as a result of the use of this means of communication. Furthermore, the Client understands that data protection afforded by Swiss law only applies on Swiss territory. Thus, any data that reach the territory of another State are not protected by Swiss law.

Data relating to the Portfolio(s) is provided for information purposes only and does not have any binding validity for the Bank, which moreover does not guarantee the accuracy of the information communicated by information systems.

The Bank reserves the right to suspend or refuse access to the private space at any time if it suspects malicious conduct that may compromise the confidentiality of the private space, or for any other reason. The Bank does not accept any liability for loss or damage resulting from interruptions in communication or transmission errors. The Client must ask the Bank without delay to block access to the private space if he/she suspects fraudulent use of his/her means of identification.

These instructions remain valid until revoked in writing by the Client. It is hereby understood that, in the event of the revocation of an Authorized User's consultation rights or power of attorney for the Portfolio(s), this authorization will be automatically terminated. The Client must therefore issue revocation instructions for each Authorized User to the Bank in all such cases.

All other aspects are governed by the General Terms and Conditions, which stipulate in particular that the agreement is subject to Swiss law and designate the place of jurisdiction.

DEED OF PLEDGE

CLIENT NUMBER [REDACTED] 7463 PORTFOLIO NUMBER(S) [REDACTED] 7'463, [REDACTED] 8'715
 CLIENT DESIGNATION Point Investments Ltd.

The present deed of pledge applies to all the Portfolios opened/placed under the above-mentioned client number.

The undersigned (hereinafter the "Client") hereby declares that he/she/it gives as a pledge in favour of Mirabaud & Cie, hereinafter referred to as "the Bank", by way of surety for all debts, present or future, plus interest, commissions, costs and all accessories which the Bank may be owed by him (them) and by

for whatever reason and at whatever time, all the securities, intermediated securities, assets, book-entry securities, cash in Swiss and foreign currencies, other property deposited with the bank or any current or future right and claims against the Bank, including fiduciary deposits, (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Assets") at present deposited or which may be deposited later in his/their name or on his/their behalf under the above-mentioned client number both with the Bank and under its management with its correspondents.

The right of pledge given to the Bank by this deed shall extend to all interests, dividends, distributions and other due rights whatsoever, whether current or future, relating to the Assets pledged.

If the Assets should be replaced by others, the latter shall be subject to the Bank's right of pledge automatically.

If new payments are made on pledged Assets, the right of pledge shall extend to the resulting additional value.

The Client undertakes immediately, where appropriate, to perform all the formalities which may be necessary, on the Bank's first request, to allow the Bank to exercise all the rights arising to it from this pledge.

If, for any reason whatsoever, the Bank should consider that the value of the Assets pledged, taking into account the set margin of cover, is no longer adequate to cover the debt, the Client hereby undertakes to re-establish said margin within the time set by the Bank. If this request is not complied with by the set date, the debt to the Bank shall immediately fall due without any further formalities being required. On the expiry of the set period, the Bank shall be entitled without further notice and without the need to invoke the procedure provided by law for prosecution for debts and bankruptcy to realise all or part of the Assets covered by this deed in the manner, order and time convenient to it, on or off the stock exchange, and to offset their costs via the secured claim. The Bank may also appropriate all or part of the Assets to cover the value of the secured claim. In all cases, a detailed statement shall be sent to the Client.

If the pledge relates to the Client's claims against the Bank, the latter may realise these claims via cash payment, irrespective of currency, maturities and the type of claims in question.

The Client expressly authorises the Bank to dispose, in its own name and for its own account, of all intermediated securities pledged to the Bank and, notably, to create a subsequent right of lien on the aforementioned intermediated securities.

The Client hereby declare(s) that he/she/it waive(s) any dispute or discussion concerning the realisation of the pledges.

If a new pledge is made by the Client in favour of a third party, this new pledge shall be subordinate to the pledge existing in favour of the Bank, with the Bank informing the third party in question accordingly. Furthermore, if the Client sets up a new pledge on assets pledged in favour of another third party, the Client authorises the Bank to provide notice of the existing pledges to the beneficiaries of the new pledge.

The product of the realisation of the pledges shall be used to repay the principal, interest, commissions, costs and accessories of the debt to the Bank, while the Client shall remain personally liable to the Bank for any debit balance which may exist after the full realisation of the pledges.

Once the debt falls due, the Bank may, even if the margin of cover is intact, require the Client to repay it within the time set by the Bank. If this request is not complied with by the set date, the Bank shall be entitled to realise the pledges in the manner set out above.

The Client undertakes to invest his/her/its pledged assets only to an extent judged acceptable by the Bank. The Bank may object to instructions and measures decided by the Client or any agents of the Client if it believes, for whatever reason, that these instructions/measures could compromise the value of the pledged assets to an extent that the collateral margin required by the Bank is not secured in any other way.

The Bank's General Terms and Conditions, which, in particular, stipulate that Swiss law will apply and designate the place of jurisdiction, and which the Client acknowledges that he/she/it has read and understood, govern all business relations between the Client and the Bank, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in this deed of pledge.
